

TASMANIAN BLACKWOOD FLOORING

Acacia Melanoxylon

Britton Timbers Blackwood flooring is setting the mark for designer interiors. The rich texture and tones of the timber grown in north-west Tasmania's temperate rainforests is attracting interest from architects and designers nationally and internationally.

Traditionally a favourite for fine furniture makers, Britton's quality Blackwood flooring is now appearing in homes and commercial installations where warmth and a welcoming feel are paramount.

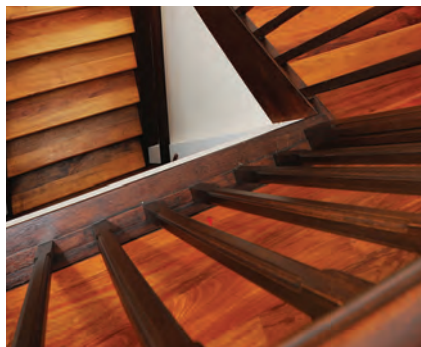

Britton's Blackwood flooring is a high-end product that brings a unique richness and depth to domestic and commercial projects. Renowned for its stability, and machined and dried to the highest standards, Britton's Blackwood stands the test of time.

Harvested under strict quality and environmental controls, our Blackwood is processed at our state-of-the-art Tasmanian mill for distribution nationally. Britton Timbers International also ships Blackwood flooring and other quality timber products world-wide.
