As a flooring choice, Britton Timbers Tasmanian Oak is without peer. It has a reputation in Australia and internationally as a durable, stable and beautiful product. Harvested from sustainably-managed and PEFC certified forests, it is trusted by architects, builders and interior designers.

It is also trusted because it is straight and machined to perfection. This means the floor goes down fast, which saves time and money. But what's truly priceless is that it is a floor that once down, your builder should never have to see again.

Tasmanian Oak Overlay Flooring

Tasmanian timber is sustainably grown, harvested and processed to meet the highest standards in quality and environmental practice.

Prime

Britton Timbers Prime overlay flooring is characterised by a clear consistent appearance, with minimal occurrences of natural features. Prime is selected by those that desire a relatively uniform look within the design palate. The timber is deliberately processed to display variable grain patterns to enhance the aesthetics of the timber.

Available Australia-wide in:

12mm Overlay in widths of:

65mm	85mm	108mm	133mm
------	------	-------	-------

14mm Overlay in a premium width of:

185mm

Classic

Britton Timbers Classic overlay flooring is characterised by regular natural features, such as gum veins, small gum pockets, knots and streaks. Classic is available in lower supply and is sought after by those that appreciate the natural characteristics of timber which represents the wild landscape in which the timber is grown. The timber is deliberately processed to display variable grain patterns. Along with the natural features this creates a distinctive and unique floor that is one of a kind.
